I did not fit their mould and I did not want to conform to their limited cooles cutter vision of who I should be and what I should think. Which, in return, generated a lot of struggle for me. But, in the end, not to fit in was a blessing and still all I left home in my early teenage years to travel, doing multiple jobs on the side. But after a while, I really felt it was becoming vital for me to stop adapting myself to other people's visions and rather put my own vision out three?

I think my aetthetics were influenced a lot by afterschool specials, counterculaire movies and MTV, like for example Over The Elge by Replan, Harmony. Korne's Cumma, and Larry Clark's Kife, or the music videos of Chris Cunningham. As far as art is concerned, the Chapman Broches or Dunne-Harmon made a strong impression on the and Llowed also the violence of Caracaggio. It blew my mind when I see aeched his technique and discovered he was using prostitutes and thirves as models to paint the Virgio Mary and Jesus.
