

TEMPLON

CHIHARU SHIOTA

THE BOSTON GLOBE, May 16, 2025

82 fun things to do in and around Boston this summer

Read more stories from the Globe's Summer Arts Guide.

As the temperatures start to rise, get ready for another sizzling summer of fun events in and around Boston. Globe critics and contributors have put together a comprehensive list, featuring dozens of things to do in Boston and beyond this season. From big Fenway Park concerts to intimate dance shows and everything in between, here's your guide for all the top events to add to your calendar this summer.

CHIHARU SHIOTA: HOME LESS HOME A project for the Institute of Contemporary Art's summertime Watershed in East Boston, Shiota's mass-scale installation explores migration and the delicate nature of home — both making and losing one. At the Watershed, a vast grid of red and black ropes will suspend such objects as suitcases, passports, and even furniture, underscoring the precariousness of uprooting, and the challenge of finding new ground. May 22 – September 1. ICA Watershed, 256 Marginal Street, East Boston. 617-478-3100, icaboston.org
– Murray Whyte